

A project of the Eden Mills Millpond Conservation Association Inc.

Newsletter # 22
September 28, 2009

REMINDER! Two Public Workshops Coming Right Up!

OUR FOOD!
Community Supported Agriculture

Come to this free workshop, the first of several presentations in Eden Mills on the vital subject of food. Food production and distribution are tightly intertwined with carbon emissions.

Presenters:

NEW! Martha Gay Scroggins We are very happy to announce that Martha Gay Scroggins of the University of Guelph will participate in the workshop. She will speak about growing sustainable food locally in a post cheap oil/post abundant water era.

Martha Gay is Site Coordinator for the year-old Guelph Centre for Urban Organic Farming (GCUOF), a campus field plot for teaching and research in organic food production. <http://www.uoguelph.ca/atguelph/09-01-28/focus.shtml>

Bryan Dyck of Whole Circle Farms (Rockwood) will be sharing the benefits (and potential issues) of belonging to a CSA farm. Learn about the rising trend of Community Supported Agriculture (CSA).

Saturday, October 3
10 am – 12 noon
Eden Mills Community Hall

~~~~~

AND MORE on an exciting food-related project just a few days later!!

Eden Mills Living in Our Natural World Series and Eden Mills Garden Club

present

Vicki Beard of Pollination Guelph

Vicki Beard is a Master Gardener with emeritus status, Guelph City Councillor for Ward 2 & winner of the 2007 North American Pollinator Protection Campaign Advocate award. She is one of the founding members of Pollination Guelph which is the resource group for the Pollinator Park in Guelph (the former Eastview Landfill site!).

Thursday October 8 at 7 pm at the Eden Mills Community Hall

For more information, please contact Linda Sword 519-853-1896 cripton@sentex.net

www.goingcarbonneutral.ca